The Fleisher Art Memorial was born from a tradition of social and cultural activism dating back to 1898. The Memorial strives towards the goal that art be accessible to all, and offers tuition-free art instruction to children and adults of diverse cultural and economic backgrounds. Through its mission, the Memorial promotes the presence of different creative and cultural experiences that take place in one common city.

Latino artists and activists in the North Kensington area of Philadelphia founded Taller Puertorriqueño in 1974. Discouraged by the absence of outlets for Barrio youth desperate to channel their artistic talents, Taller’s founders created a community-based graphic arts workshop to provide cultural training alternatives to local youth. For more than three decades, Taller has continued to be a vital resource for progress in the Barrio and the region. It is now nationally recognized as a model organization that uses the arts as a vehicle for social change.

Each year, Leeway partners with community and/or arts organizations to help spread information about our art and social change grant programs.
